

Checklist Before Submission

Before submitting your manuscript, please check the following points:

1. Is your manuscript within the scope of the journal?

Please read the scope of the journal carefully and confirm that your manuscript fits it well.

The manuscript beyond the required scope will be recommended to another suitable LIDSEN journal if authors agree, or rejected.

2. Have you read the publication policies?

Each manuscript submitted to the LIDSEN journals will be thoroughly peer-reviewed before publication. The details of our editorial process are available here.

Please also read the Guideline for Authors to understand the requirements that apply to your submission. Submission involves any misconduct of publication may be rejected directly.

3. Was your research conducted ethically?

If your research involves human, animals, cell lines or plants, etc, you must strictly follow the Research Ethics Guidelines. Disobeying these requirements may lead to rejection of the manuscript.

4. Was your manuscript prepared using the journal's template?

Manuscript format should follow LIDSEN style. All necessary sections should be included.

5. Have all authors agreed the content of the submitted manuscript?

All authors should have read the manuscript and approved all content of the manuscript, including all data and findings, authorship, affiliations, email addresses, funding resources, author contributions and conflicts of interest, etc. We keep all authors informed at each stage of the editorial process.

6. Do you agree the Open Access policy?

We publish papers in all LIDSEN journals under the Open Access policy as following: published papers are freely available without subscription or price barriers; paper is published in open access format immediately after officially accepted. We apply the Creative Commons Attribution \(CC BY 4.0\) License to all LIDSEN journals, unless otherwise noted. Under this license, authors agree to make articles, including data, graphics, and supplements, legally available for reuse, without permission or fees, for virtually any purpose. Anyone may copy, distribute or reuse these articles, as long as the author and original source are properly cited.

7. Have you prepared a cover letter for your submission?

A short cover letter should be provided explaining why your manuscript fits the scope of the journal, and highlighting the novelty of your study. The cover letter should also be submitted to our editorial system together with the manuscript.

8. Have you registered in our editorial system and had an account for your submission?

You should register in our Editorial System with your institutional email address and submit your manuscript through your account. You may also check the status of your manuscript from this system.

If this editorial system does not work on your side, please contact us for help.
